STRATEGIC ALIGNMENT

INFORMATION/BACKGROUND

The City of Denton operates a Type 1 Hazardous Materials Response Team. The purchase of a gas identification system will upgrade the chemical detection equipment to increase the speed of chemical agents and maintain the Type 1 Hazardous Materials status. Upgrading to the Redwave XplorIR detector provides positive identification of gases and vapors in real-time.

This purchase will provide for the continued safe and efficient response of the Hazardous Materials Response Team to incidents in the region and beyond. The Hazardous Materials Response Team operated by the City of Denton responds to incidents not only in the North Central Texas region, but also in other areas of North Texas, and where requested by State and Federal authorities. The proposed purchase of detection equipment will allow for the more efficient identification of chemical, biological, radiological, and explosive hazards.
