4. Work Session Reports

- A. ID 18-165 Receive a report, hold a discussion, and give staff direction regarding the development of an ethics ordinance including, but not limited to, a discussion on misuse of information, abuse of resources, abuse of position, duty to report, hindrance, and disclosures, from attorney Alan Bojorquez.

Alan Bojorquez stated that this module would center on crafting a code. The topics of discussion would include Misuse of Information; Abuse of Resources; Abuse of Position; Duty to Report; Hindrance; and Disclosures.

Misuse of information centered on restricting the use of information for personal purposes if the information was obtained because of person's official city duties and prohibiting the disclosure of confidential information.

Council discussion on misuse of information included:

- Whether to include confidential information, public information or both
- Whether to include family members
- A definition of "official city duties"
- A definition of confidential information to include meetings with staff and not just closed meeting discussions

Abuse of resources center on banning the use of city resources for personal or private purposes. Council felt that resources should not be used unless they were available to other members of the public.

Abuse of position dealt with prohibiting harassment and discrimination and preventing interference with investigations.

Council discussion on abuse of position included:

- Consider following the City's Human Resources policy
- Consider using the Houston sample with the addition of gender identity

Duty to report would create an affirmative duty for city officials who were aware of violations of the Code to report those violations. It would make it a violation of the Code not to report such violations.

Council discussion on duty to report included:

- Who the violation would be reported to
- The level of knowledge of the violation such as suspecting a violation versus knowledge of a violation
- Use the Hot Line to report direct knowledge or suspicion of a violation
- The consequences of not reporting a suspected or have knowledge of a violation
- Could be a matter of interpretation of what constituted a violation
- Definition of "knowledge"
- Implementation of such a policy might be difficult
- If the provision could not be enforced, why put it in the ordinance
- Duty to report to the Fraud and Abuse Hotline as a mitigating step
- Consensus to have this provision in the ordinance but consider consequences at a later meeting. If a staff member were involved, go through the Fraud and Abuse Hotline and to the City Manager. If Council were involved refer to the Ethics Commission

Hindrance centered on whether a violation would be to purposely take steps to stop or prevent a service from being provided or a practice.

Council discussion on hindrance centered on:

- Whether this provision could be used as a catch all for all types of non-violations
- Whether there were other provisions in the draft Code to cover these situations
- Consensus was not to include this section as it was covered in other parts of the proposed code.

Disclosures dealt with whether the Code would be silent on this issue and defer to State law in terms of financial disclosures required of all elected officials and candidates.

Council discussion:

- Place a reference in the Code but mirror State law
- Consider adding a civil enforcement aspect through the Board of Ethics
- No different forms would be required other than per State law
- Consensus was to follow State law but included a right to cure

- B. ID 18-152 Receive a report, hold a discussion, and provide direction regarding the regulation of stationless bike share companies to include a proposed application and permit fee.

Mark Nelson, Director of Transportation, presented information on a Stationless Bike Share policy in terms of the status of Bike Share in Denton, a staff recommendation and policy direction. He presented information on the background of the stationless bike share program. A list of operators of the program in the area was reviewed along with what other cities were doing. Regulating options were noted along with information on the companies currently operating in Denton. Cons of the program were also presented. Staff was recommending goals for the policy and a pilot permit program.

Council discussion included:

- Liability on the part of the City
- Availability of citizens to use the bikes
- Whether the draft provisions for a pilot program had been discussed with the vendors
- Consider an RFP process in order to obtain greater control over the vendors
- How many operators did the City need and how much were the bikes used
- This type of program was an important part of the City's mobility but it needed to be regulated
- Limit the number of bikes available city-wide
- What to do in the interim until an RFP was completed
- Address the regulatory aspect in terms of a temporary license with the limit of 100 bikes per operator; have the pilot period of 30-90 days to obtain data; and reconsider the program after that time period to review the data.

Following the completion of the Work Session, the City Council convened in a Closed Meeting to consider the specific items listed below under the Closed Meeting section of this agenda.
